Business Programs
(OSBP)

Office of the USD(AT&L)

Dr. Galvin leads the development and implementation of policies and procedures for Small Businesses to contribute to the modernization of the $285B Department of Defense (DoD) Industrial Base. His portfolio includes legislative affairs, acquisition regulations and performance management. He works with the DoD Acquisition leadership, stakeholders across the federal government and the businesses of the DoD Industrial Base to facilitate the acquisition of timely and innovative national security solutions through government contracts with Small Businesses.

Prior to joining OSBP, Dr. Galvin was a Program Manager for over 110 energy and water projects on military installations. He was on detail to DoD from the Department of Energy National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) to develop and implement a program to demonstrate innovative technologies to improve energy security. While on detail he also served as an adjunct professor at The George Washington University, teaching graduate students in the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences.

Prior to working at NREL, where he led a program to help the State of Hawaii achieve its clean energy goals, Dr. Galvin retired from the Army as a Colonel after serving in a variety of Aviation and Operations Research assignments. He served in the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment and the 18th Airborne Corps in various roles as a pilot (AH-1, OH-58 and UH-60), commander and staff officer. He also served on the Army Staff, at the US Southern Command Headquarters and at the Army's Combined Arms Center in positions involving Program Analysis, Legislative Liaison, Organizational Transformation and Knowledge Management.

He was awarded the Legion of Merit, Meritorious Service Medal, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, Army Achievement Medal and Humanitarian Service Medal for his military service. He was the 2012 recipient of the Chairman's Award from NREL for his support to
